

Economic Sociology - course description

General information
Course name	Economic Sociology
Course ID	14.2-WP-SOC-SOEK
Faculty	Faculty of Social Sciences
Field of study	WNS - oferta ERASMUS / Sociology
Education profile	-
Level of studies	First-cycle Erasmus programme
Beginning semester	winter term 2019/2020
Head faculty	Faculty of Social Sciences

Course information
ECTS credits to win	3
Course type	obligatory
Teaching language	english
Author of syllabus	<ul style="list-style-type: none">dr Anna Mielczarek-Żejmo

Classes forms
The class form	Hours per semester (full-time)	Hours per week (full-time)	Hours per semester (part-time)	Hours per week (part-time)	Form of assignment
Class	30	2	-	-	Credit with grade

Aim of the course

To acquaint students with general ideas of an economic sociology and preparing them to identifying and analyzing social processes in contemporary economy.

Prerequisites

No special prerequisites

Scope

- Conception of human being in economy (theoretical perspectives).
- The main actors of economic sphere. A country and economy.
- Social justice.
- Socio-economic development and it's factors.
- Culture as a factor of economic development.
- Variety of capitalism.
- Authorities and economy. Authorities and keeping distance.
- Individualism and collectivism and economy.
- Ethos of work in Poland and in the other countries.

Teaching methods

Lectures: Lecture with discussion. Demonstrating - teaching through examples and case studies description.

Classes: class discussion. Small groups discussion. Open textbook study.

Learning outcomes and methods of theirs verification

Outcome description	Outcome symbols	Methods of verification	The class form
The student can identify main actors of a market and particularly: a state, transnational economic institutions etc. The student knows the most important theories about economic aspects and their influence on societies. The student can identify factors which influenced economic systems in the past and nowadays. The student can formulate her/his ideas (in oral and written way) about economic aspects and institutions. The student can use ideas and theories of economic sociology to analyze chosen case studies.		<ul style="list-style-type: none">• Lecture: Written examination in form of a test. The assessment is performed in accordance with the point grading scale. Classes: Individual assessment based on active participation during the course. Assessed by a grade on the basis of submission of a group/or individual research paper. The final grade is average of lecture and classes grades.	<ul style="list-style-type: none">• Class

Assignment conditions

Lecture: Written examination in form of a test. The assessment is performed in accordance with the point grading scale.

Classes: Individual assessment based on active participation during the course.

Assessed by a grade on the basis of submission of a group/or individual research paper.

The final grade is average of lecture and classes grades.

Recommended reading

1. Hofstede G., Cultures and Organizations. Software of the Mind, McGraw-Hill, London 1994.

Further reading

1. Bell D., The Cultural Contradictions of Capitalism, Basic Books, New York 1976.
2. Polanyi K., The Great Transformation, The political and economic origins of our time, Beacon Press, Boston 2001.

Notes

the subject can be run every semester, in case there is not enough persons to make a group there will be individual class run during instructor hours.

Modified by dr Jarosław Wagner (last modification: 27-04-2019 17:00)

Generated automatically from SyllabUZ computer system